

If you need an F-1 or J-1 visa (or if you are in the United States and will continue your F-1 or J-1 immigration status) you are required to certify that you will have adequate financial support for your program of study at the University of Colorado at Boulder. Complete support for your first year must be guaranteed, and support for subsequent years must be estimated. Form I-20 or DS-2019 required for the issuance of a visa cannot be mailed until you have satisfactorily completed this form and have returned it to the Office of Admissions with the appropriate documentation. If you do not need to meet or maintain F-1 or J-1 status, you do not need to submit this form.

 (In order to qualify for in-state tuition with its reduced costs, largely subsidized by the state of Colorado, a number of conditions must be met including domicile in Colorado for at least 12 consecutive months. Most international students with nonimmigrant student status, such as F-1, F-2, J-1, or J-2, are classified as out-of-state students and are ineligible for the lower tuition rate. However, international students under age 22 with F and J status whose parents have employment visas, and married students with F and J status whose spouses have employment visas, may qualify. Exceptions to the one-year requirement are provided for active-duty military, Colorado National Guard members, Olympic athletes, faculty members at state-supported colleges, and employees of companies moving to Colorado with State economic incentives. Details of these exceptions are available as follows. Information about the Colorado resident/nonresident regulations is available from the Office of the Registrar at http://registrar.colorado.edu/students/tuition_classification_regulations.html, by e-mail at tuitclass@registrar.colorado.edu, or by telephone at 303-492-6868. To request an application for in-state status, write or call the Tuition Classification Office, Regent Administrative Center 105, University of Colorado at Boulder, 68 UCB, Boulder, Colorado 80309-0068 USA, telephone: 303-492-6868.)
