

International Affairs MINOR

NEW

Want to add a global perspective to your degree? Add a Minor in International Affairs!

The International Affairs (IAFS) Minor at CU Boulder is a great way to incorporate a global perspective into your degree program, open to all students at CU no matter your school or college! The IAFS program is interdisciplinary, meaning you can take courses in a wide variety of departments such as Anthropology, Economics, Political Science, and Women and Gender Studies.

Students will be eligible to graduate with the IAFS minor at the end of Fall 2023. Starting March 2023, students can declare the IAFS minor and the minor will be effective Summer 2023. Reach out to your advisor with questions!

Minor Requirements (19 credits total)

- IAFS 1000: Global Issues and International Affairs (4 credits)
- Four electives (12 credits) from the IAFS Functional Areas:
  - Development and Culture
  - International Economics, Business, and Political Economy
  - Political Geography, International Security, and Foreign Policy
  - Institutions, Rights, and Norms
- IAFS 3000: Special Topics in International Affairs (3 credits)

How to declare
a minor:

www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/degree-planning/change-add-program

Visit our website at:

www.colorado.edu/iafs/academics/minor-requirements

International Affairs Program
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER

