

WINTER 2024 NATIONAL ONLINE WORKSHOP

The Vietnam War: Origins, History, and Legacies January 25, 2024 – 7:00 to 8:30 pm ET

Join the Choices Program at Brown University and the National Consortium for Teaching about Asia at the University of Colorado Boulder as we present the student readings, lessons, and videos in the Choices curriculum unit The Vietnam War: Origins, History, and Legacies as a model for applying multiple perspectives to the study of the war. Learn about ways to implement the unit in a variety of courses. This curriculum unit examines the history of the U.S. war in Vietnam, overlaps with larger themes in East Asian history, and explores the war's long-term legacies. The session will highlight primary sources and include some time to try out an abbreviated lesson.

Eligibility and Selection: Secondary teachers nationwide are invited to apply. Admission is selective, and priority will be given to social studies teachers and contract teachers whose required curriculum includes teaching about the Vietnam War. Enrollment is limited to 30 teachers; applications close January 22, 2024, or when course is full.

All participants who complete the workshop will receive their choice of the print unit or a two-year digital license.

Apply online at <https://tinyurl.com/TEAcourseregistration>

For more information, contact TEA Director lynn.kalinauskas@colorado.edu.

